Opera: The Traditions Spanning 400 Years and its Re-imagination in Our Contemporary World, Part II

Exploring the humanity, the beauty, and the continuing relevance of a theatrical experiment that has enchanted, inspired, and perplexed us for ages, Saul Lilienstein will bring it to life through vivid representations on film and recordings, with observations drawn from his life-long involvement as an opera conductor, producer, and commentator.

Saul Lilienstein lectures on a variety of topics for the Smithsonian Institution and the Washington Opera. His recent series of commentaries on CD for the Washington Opera has been received with acclaim. Lilienstein is a professor emeritus at Essex Community College and is the former artistic director of Operetta Renaissance and the Harford Opera Theater.

Monday, February 19–May 7, 1 p.m.–3 p.m.
The Films of Meryl Streep

In the history of Hollywood, Meryl Streep has won more Oscar nominations (20 as of 2016) and more golden globe nominations (30 as of 2016) than anyone else. She has excelled in dramas like Sophie’s Choice, comedies like The Devil Wears Prada, and even musicals like Mamma Mia. Meryl (born Mary Louise Streep) was one of the Kennedy Center honorees in 2011. No one does foreign accents better and yet she can capture the essence of middle America. She has played a head of state (Margaret Thatcher in Iron Lady), a nun (Doubt), even a wicked witch (Into the Woods). During the course of the semester, we will see clips that highlight her career and celebrate one of the greatest screen actresses ever.

Stan Levin has a degree in Film and Theatre from New York University. He also studied theater at the graduate level at the Catholic University of America. He was a documentary film maker for the US Department of Agriculture and an award-winning writer of radio and TV commercials. He was a nationally syndicated film critic, and is a frequent lecturer on film and contemporary culture in the DC Metro area.
