Welcome back for another semester at Johns Hopkins University Advanced Academic Programs! As students fill our classrooms - online, and in DC, Baltimore and Rockville - Student Services is excited to roll out AAP’s inaugural Student Newsletter. Check back each month for news, upcoming events and important information to support your success. We are thrilled you are part of our Johns Hopkins Community!
The EPC and ESP students traveled to the Hoover Dam, Red Rock Canyon, and Hawai'i for hands-on learning experiences.

No Days Off:

Students Spend Their Summer Studying in the Field

Summer 2018 was an exciting semester here at AAP while many professors traveled with their students to off-site courses all over the world. From American states like Nashville, Hawai'i, California, & Vegas, to European cities like London, Dublin, and Berlin, students were able to gain hands-on knowledge while learning from the best in their industries.

Museum Studies students visited Nashville in May 2018 visited a wide variety of museums and considered how its reputation as "Music City" is embodied in the museums and cultural institutions.

New Students Join the Hopkins Community
DC Programs
Welcome New Students

Excitement filled the air as over 200 new students filled the halls of the DC Center for the New Student Orientation on Wednesday, August 29th. Students met with representatives from the Office of International Students, Student Services, Registration, Online Support, and the Library to learn about available resources. Students were also able to meet with their Program Directors to learn more about what to expect in their new programs. Career Services closed out the festivities by hosting a reception featuring networking games that encouraged students to get to know each other.

Biotechnology
Students Meet Peers and Faculty

The Center for Biotechnology Education held an Online Orientation on August 29th and arranged a Meet & Greet on the Homewood and Montgomery County campuses on August 30th and September 5th. Students met their instructors in person and were able to hear about the resources available to them as Hopkins students while getting to know their new classmates.

AAP Programs Hold Virtual Orientations

AAP programs like Biotechnology and Museum Studies held virtual orientations to create a more inclusive environment for their new students located all over the world.

New General Online Orientation

Did you have to miss Orientation? Do you have questions regarding who to contact or what resources you can utilize? No worries! Student Services unveiled a new Online Orientation, listing all the resources students can use throughout their time at AAP.

Win Free Swag By Filling Out A Survey!
Student Services wants to hear from YOU! You can enter to win Johns Hopkins swag by participating in a survey to tell us how to enhance your experience.

Take Survey Here

Student Services Updates

AAP Adopts Graduate Academic Misconduct Policy
Effective August 2018, AAP has joined the graduate programs in the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences and Whiting School of Engineering in adopting the Graduate Academic Misconduct Policy. All students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with this policy and adhering to it.

Johns Hopkins Student Assistance Program (JHSAP)
JHSAP is a confidential, free resource to help students manage work, life and school challenges and support their emotional well-being. All AAP students, online and onsite, have access to this resource. Talk to someone today!

Handshake Career Platform
All Johns Hopkins Career Centers have moved to Handshake. This online platform allows career centers and employers to engage with students and alumni of Johns Hopkins University. For more information and frequently asked questions, please check out these tips.

Opioid Epidemic Awareness Program
In response to the opioid epidemic and recent State legislation, Johns Hopkins University has developed this training which aims to ensure our community is informed and equipped to obtain support for friends, family members, classmates, colleagues, and ourselves.

Don’t forget! Complete Avoiding Plagiarism Online Course
If you haven’t already, please take the time to complete this online, self-paced module to ensure that you have the information you need to be successful in your program.

AAP Emergency Procedures
Remember to sign up for Emergency Alerts in your MyJHU portal under "My Profile."

Download the LiveSafe app!
In case of a fire in your immediate area, activate fire alarm and call 911. Contain the fire by closing doors and window. If you hear a fire alarm evacuate the building and move to a designated safe location. If you are on the DC Center, meet in front of Brookings Institute. Help persons requiring assistance if you are able to do so safely. DO NOT USE ELEVATORS.

Fall Events

September 13th
6:00-7:00 pm ET
Tools for Success Webinar:
Need some tips on how to rock your graduate school experience? Join Student Services in a virtual webinar to learn about tools that can help you succeed in AAP.
Register here

September 19th & 20th
International Student Career Development Workshop:
An interactive workshop for our international students to assist with adjusting to and preparing for work in the United States. This is on the Homewood Campus in Baltimore.
Register on Handshake

September 26th
Women in the Workplace: Overcoming Struggles summit, this is a round-table of professional women discussing and offering guidance on workplace bullying, sexism, sexual harassment, microaggressions, and second generation bias. This is on the DC Campus and will be live streamed.
Register on Handshake

October 2nd 4:00-7:00 pm
DC Meet & Greet
Stop by the DC Center where we bring the JHU Bookstore to you! Grab some swag, enjoy light refreshments and connect with AAP Student Affairs and Johns Hopkins Student Assistance Program (JHSAP) staff.

October 9th
Strategies of Effective Professional Communication:
A webinar for all. This includes participating in a career inventory and utilizing the results to learn more about communicating with other professionals who have varying communication styles in an effective and meaningful manner. Advanced sign up is required.
Register on Handshake

October 16th
5:00-6:00 pm ET
Town Hall: Live Virtual Chat
Check in with Student Affairs to ask questions, learn about resources and chat with other students.

More Events Coming Soon! Stay Updated:
http://advanced.jhu.edu/calendar-of-events/

STAY CONNECTED
Confirm that you like this.

Click the "Like" button.